“ mom, I will miss your presence in this world. You and I have had a rocky road travelled over 65 years of my life. There are so many things that you taught me when I was young. Your lessons will always be with me. I will remember how you were such a magician in the kitchen and your dedication to serving us healthy wonderful meals. Your cookies at Christmas time were amazing! I've passed that tradition onto my children. Now they enjoy your magic cookies that comfort a heart and spirit. I will remember your strong spirit and motivation to get things done. You were very capable to bring things to completion. Your intelligence is one gift you passed on in your genes to all of your children. I didn't always understand your choices in life . I felt confused many times regarding them . Thank you for watching over me when I was little and keeping me safe from harm. I only hope the God of your childhood was in your heart when his spirit was withdrawn from your body. I pray I will reunite with you one day and all of our pain between us will be healed. I have always loved you . Your my mom. How could I do anything else?

In his spirit of Grace and forgiveness,

Connie
