“ Adrian came into our life when his mom and I were just kids. I remember when she told me she was pregnant with him, I was scared for her and what life would look like for her but Adrian ended up being something we could all put our love into and we did just that. I hope he knew how much we loved him and how much we still love him. We grew up with him in a way, babies having babies but I think it made us better people. Adrian was a cheerful, funny and goofy person. I loved saying off the wall things just to hear him say “Oh my God Tia” but he always laughed. I’ll make sure we never forget what your laugh sounded like in my house. Love you always Nephew.
