“ As a history buff, I have so enjoyed the story of the Ledbetter children; the five ambitious daughters who all started or managed businesses. Then I had the pleasure to meet Corky Spalding and she enlarged the history of the family. Because of that I learned that Bette Dixon was the daughter of Myra Ledbetter Kaysen and took over the Myras dress shop in Soap Lake and she and son David managed it for many years. In the 50's as a teenager I would shop for some clothes with babysitting money and I know Bette was the manager at that time. I hope family will know how much she and her family impacted the early history of Soap Lake and how important she was to this community. Hopefully you will put a summary of her life in the Grant Co Journal obituary section so others can learn of the accomplishments this lady did. Blessings to her entire family at this time of loss.
