“ I am an attorney in Moses Lake and will never forget him. He and I are the same age, both born in 1949. He was wrongfully assaulted by an overzealous Washington State Patrolman in the early 1980s. His mother, Annie Moore, brought him in to see me because of the unjustified beating. Both mother and son were kind, loving, caring and sincere people. My office successfully obtained a money judgment against the State of Washington and the officer was dismissed from the WSP because of his actions.
