“ My earliest memory is when I was probably 7 years old and we were at Aunt Ruthie and Uncle Earl's house. The kids were outside playing and then we heard Cousin Charlie was going to nearby store. So we all begged to go with him. Our folks sad no because they didn't want us to be a nuisance, but Charlie smiled and said he was happy to take us. We piled in the car. There were probably 5 of us in the back and 4 older kids in the front. (Days before seatbelt restrictions- lol). Charlie was speeding in his hot rod and we were egging him on to go fast over Peanut Hump railroad ties and we flew over it!!! Bumped our heads on ceiling but everyone just laughing in delight! We really enjoyed our Cousin Charlie - You are missed. Lovingly, Natalie (Homer) Dominion Varoz
