

Cheryl K Macy

June 26, 1943 - October 11, 2022

Cheryl K. Macy, 79, of Moses Lake, WA, surrounded by family in the days preceding her passing, went to be with the Lord on October 11, 2022.

Cheryl was born to Florabelle Dorothy Smith in Ottumwa, Iowa on June 26, 1943. She lived in several towns in the Midwest before moving with her family to Bremerton, Washington in 1951.

Her mother married Edward Smith in 1962, blending their family of eight children, with Cheryl being the oldest. They bought a home in Ballard, where Cheryl graduated high school.

In 1964, Cheryl married Marvin Falkenstein. While they were together, they were blessed with two children—Glenn & Lisa.

Years later, Cheryl began working at a dental clinic in Lake Stevens, WA. As the receptionist, she met Alfred Macy, who bluntly told her what day and time his sons (Ray, Anders, & Charlie) would be coming to the dentist, regardless of the office's schedule - a very bad first encounter! However, in spite of this, they began dating and were married on June 22, 1973, at her parents' home in Arlington, WA.

Al and Cheryl worked hard to blend their families into one through the following years. Together, they had to make difficult decisions, which turned out to be the best decision for the family. In 1977, they moved to Hoodspport, WA, and Cheryl began working at the US Post Office in nearby Shelton for the next 27 years, retiring in 2003. They built a house and moved to Shelton in 1983. Her husband, Al, died on March 31, 2005, and in 2007, Cheryl moved to Moses Lake to be closer to her daughter.

In the late 1970s, Cheryl experienced God's wonderful grace and forgiveness. Her decision to follow Jesus changed her heart and eternal destiny, saved her marriage, and inspired many to follow Jesus. Cheryl's passion for serving God by learning and following Biblical truths allowed her to have peace in difficult times. She loved her church families through the years and they, in turn, adored her!

She delighted in time spent with Al camping, fishing, and traveling alone and with friends and family. Cheryl was a great pianist, using her talent to teach so many others through the years (including at their small business, the Shelton Music Center). Later in life, she could be found playing for worship at her church. Her unconditional love and mighty prayers for her family have been a treasure.

Cheryl is survived by:

Children: Glenn Falkenstein, Shelton, WA; Lisa (Norman) Hanley, Shelton, WA; Step-sons: Raymond Macy, Duluth, MN; Anders (Nancy) Macy, Fertile, MN; and Charles Macy, Fosston, MN;

Grandchildren: Heidi Falkenstein, Molly Hanley, Benjamin Hanley, Nathanael (Ashley) Macy, Benjamin (Jesse) Macy, Michael (Alyssa) Macy, and Samuel Macy

5 Great-grandchildren, numerous brothers and sisters, countless cousins, nieces, nephews and friends.
