George and Clara Simmons were long time Othello residents heavily involved in the community having moved there in 1966.

Clara was employed by the City of Othello and retired in 1987. Clara could be seen enjoying energetic walks around Othello in the early mornings and was determined to keep active in retirement. She loved getting together with her family and staying active as a member of the Nazarene Church in Othello. In 2007 She made the Coventry House Assisted Living facility in Othello her home. The entire staff became her extended family. Her determination & life example has been an inspiration to us all. She will be missed very much by her family & all her friends in the community.
