“ Cyndi was a constant companion with our family. Our many road trips to road runs Entiat, Odessa , Harrington Bloomsday plus all the cross country meets. Cyndi as a Senior was the true leader of the girls 1984 state champions. Cyndi , Greg & Chandra are the Charter members of Team Ephrata. That mischievous smile could melt an iceberg.All our love, The McManus Family.

“ Cyndi was a candlelight that made everyone feel warm, and made us feel a part of her family and life. Always laughing, always joking with someone, she made our day better just by reading her comments on facebook.. Cyndi part of you will always be part of us and I shall never forget you. You will be one of God's favorite angels. I shall always think of you and pray for your family every night.

“ I met Cyndi in the early 90's and she welcomed me into her circle of friends immediately and treated me like we had been friends since childhood. She was genuine, always nurturing relationships and never taking them for granted, and funny! I moved away and we didn't talk much as our lives went in different directions and living in different places. However, when we would run into each other it was as if time had never passed and she was always hugged like you had just completely made her day by spending a moment with her in this busy life. I was shocked and heart broken to hear of her passing. She left a footprint in my life and I plan on honoring that by treating others like they are so important in my life and will think of her each time. I am so thankful that I was given the chance to cross paths with Cyndi in lives journey.

“Cyndi was a great friend since middle school. No matter how long it had been, it was like it was yesterday when we saw each other. She will be greatly missed and was a very dear person. We shared some great memories over the years. I hope and pray for strength for your loved ones you leave behind.

“I dislike the phrase ‘Internet friends,’ because it implies that people you know online aren’t really your friends, that somehow the friendship is less real or meaningful to you because it happens through Skype or text messages. The measure of a friendship is not its physicality but its significance. Good friendships, online or off, urge us toward empathy; they give us comfort and also pull us out of the prisons of our selves”

I too met Cyndi and Mike this past October at a charity fund raiser. I was very proud to call her a friend of mine. She will be sadly missed in our chat room but never forgotten. My heart goes out to Mike and the gremlins (Cyerra & Carter).

“ I met Cyndi and her husband Mike at a charity concert last year, and chatted with her every Sunday morning in a Facebook chat room for fans of the "Legends of Country" show on KORD radio. Her sense of humor, quick wit and genuine kindness made us all appreciate her friendship. She was usually one of the first people online when Ed Dailey's show started broadcasting, and the few Sundays that she wasn't, it was common for someone to type "It's too quiet in here, where's Cyndi?"

Sunday mornings won't be the same without her! We don't understand why God took her but we'll remember her always, and will keep Cyndi's family in our thoughts and prayers.

“ Cyndi and I met in the late 80's and we also worked together but threw the years we lost touch. If we ran into each other she always had a smile and a hug. Cyndi helped me years ago threw some sad and bad times with her positive attitude and her quirky sense of humor. I have a heavy heart and am deeply saddened that I wasn't around more to be there for her. I will miss her smiling face and know that God will take care of her. Rest in piece my friend. I will keep Cyndi's loved ones in my thoughts and prayers.

“ In High school you were the supplier of Prince to dance to on the way to a meet, the fun could not be matched! Later in life we danced again in the silly game of yoville. laughing at ourselves now women....mothers..but still friends and still happy to see each other...still laughing..still dancing. I am honored to have shared those moments with you, and will miss you dearly.

“ Cyndi, I just saw you last summer, Maddi and Cyerra played together while the the boys played baseball. I gave you a hug, it was the last one I will ever get to give you. I wish you were still here so our kids could be friends. So I could hear you call me "chic" again, to hear you laugh. I'll miss you girlfriend!
