“ Grandma. I will miss you dearly. You the matriarch of all matriarch. You were the heart and soul of this family. You truly loved God, had His love within you, and greatly shared that love with all who would come to know you. You had the biggest heart. Only someone who had truly given themselves to Jesus could love like that. Even though grandpa was the rock that the family was established upon you showed your own toughness, not succumbing to cancer, not letting it take the essence of who you are; fighting and laughing to the very end. Maybe it was selfish of me to be before the throne of grace begging God to prolong your days upon this earth amidst the pain and suffering you were enduring. I just knew my world would be all that much colder and darker without you. Although my heart is aching, I have peace and joy knowing that you are with our Lord in heaven basking in the fullness of the riches of His glory having the pain and sadness of this world behind and are reunited with your beloved Evaristo. Thank you for being an example of God's love. You showed me that love is more powerful than hate, that kindness perseveres through bitterness, and forgiveness accomplishes more than anger and resentment. The Bible, God's Word, says that love covers a multitude of sins. In this difficult and selfish world you showed us how this was true because you covered us all in your God given, unfailing love. --Isaac Agbisit

“ Mom, my heart is so broken! Although, I thank God that he finally called your 'name' and released you from your pain and suffering. I feel blessed that I was able to keep my promise to help walk this difficult journey with you from beginning to end. You will live in me forever 'Mama' I love you more than any words or actions could have ever been expressed! Until we meet again, Love Your Baby Girl, Mona.
