

Doris Lobe

October 25, 1930 - October 14, 2020

On October 14, 2020 Doris (Dolly) McCoy Lobe passed on to the people that she loved so much, leaving the rest of us to celebrate her and her love for life. Dolly was born in Sidney Montana on October 25, 1930 and spent her life in Montana, Washington and Arizona. She worked in retail, insurance, park management, ... but spent most of her life as a mother, grandmother and housewife. She never really knew her mother, who passed away when she was an infant, and so her sister and her were raised by her father (Walt), Grandma Celina Falcon and her other aunts, uncles and cousins. She was a member of The Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa Indians from Belcourt North Dakota.

She was dearly loved by everyone that ever got to know her. She lived life to the fullest and did exactly what she wanted. She loved bowling, square dancing, traveling and was active in her church and various clubs. She mostly loved to play cards and spend time with her many grandkids.

Dolly was preceded in death by her parents (John (Walt) and Josephine Boyer McCoy), sister (Lillian (Babe) Smith), love of her life Everett Lobe and grandson Troy Langshaw. She is survived by her daughter's (Linda McGann Scriven and Deb McGann Langshaw), son Rick McGann, Seven grandkids, eighteen great grandkids and one great great grandson, ... and many many others that loved, honored and respected her for the great woman that she was. She is and will be dearly missed!!

We would especially like to thank Amber Newborn who cared for our mom, grandmother, aunt, ... in her later life with great love and compassion.

A Celebration of Life will be held at a future date.
