

George W. Manderville Jr

October 13, 1969 - August 12, 2016

"Son, Brother, Father, Husband, Grandpa, Joe'

On the evening of August 12, 2016 Joe passed away peacefully in his wife's arms, Lauralye L. Manderville; surrounded by close family at Samaritan Hospital in Moses Lake, Washington.

Joe was born to Sharon M. Willmorth and George W. Mandeville on October 13, 1969 in Brewster, Washington. He was raised in George, Washington with siblings Terry Mandeville, Jeanette Neagle, Phillip Mandeville, Elliot Mandeville, Todd Reynolds and Jennifer Reynolds. His children are George Manderville, Felicia Manderville, Cody Manderville and Angelea Earl.

The greatest quality of Joe was how he could be-friend and make anybody feel like family. His love for Lauralye was like no other; I personally have never met a couple so deeply in love. Family was very important to him. He taught us to love our spouses unconditionally, work hard and provide for our families, take time to travel and make memories.

Viewing will be held from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Friday, August 19, 2016 at Kayser's Chapel of Memories followed by a graveside service at 2:00 p.m. at Guarding Angels Cemetery.

“ Joe was a special person that made everyone smile! Whenever I saw Joe, he was always asking about how others were doing. That was the kind of man he was, forever caring! The love and dedication that Joe and Lauralye shared was beautiful! My thoughts and prayers go out to Lauralye, their children and grandchildren during this difficult time. Hold on to the fact that he is now pain free and smiling down on everyone.

“ Joe loved his kids and loved and adored all of his Grand children and spent so much time with them. Lauralye is the love of his life. No one made Joe happier then those he held dearest to his heart. I've watched those who loved him most spend countless hours at the hospital, at home, and even a trip to buy peanuts ... Just to help him every chance they could. His final hours were filled with love and laughter of memories shared as a family. I am blessed to be called family and cherish them all. Joe is now pain and cancer free and watching over everyone he holds dear.
