“ Jim was such a great friend, I will miss his name he he always called me, Larry Laroo. He is now up fishing in heaven with my father-in-law Lyle Flint. Finding all the good spot for when I join them to make the annual fishing trio back together. I was so happy to have gone fishing this year with him, but Lyle didn't make it. Still not sure why God takes all the good men like Jim away from us, but he has plans and Jim is the person to get it done. You will be missed. Your friend always, Larry Laroo.##imported-begin##Larry Miller##imported-end##

“ I spent 8 years serving in the Army with Jim. He was one of the best Soldiers I've ever had the honor of serving with. And yes, I was married to him for a while. He gave me three great (step)children and I will be forever grateful to him for that.

Jim, you will be sorely missed, my old friend. At least you are out of pain now. Look down. Look down and see how much you are missed and loved. Your children are grieving you now. Jen, Janice and I have talked about you extensively. I have shared with Jen, Jay and Sean how much you loved them. They don't remember much from those early days when they stayed with us in Colorado but I remember it clearly. We all had so much fun and those are the memories I want them to have of you.

I hope your heaven is in the Mountains, on a River, and you are healed, with a fishing pole in your hand. On your stringer is a 1/2 dozen beautiful rainbow trout. I know you've got a grill going and you're cooking your fish as quickly as you pull them out of the water. That's the good life, Jim. The one I remember sharing with you.

Go in peace, Jim. I always had a special place in my heart for you.##imported-begin##Wendi Goodman-Boryk##imported-end##
