“ Dian and Jim, I knew Larry as the first person I met in Moses Lake 8 years ago. He has been a friend, confidant and source of endless humor, jokes and levity for me. My experience of Larry was that of a man full of fire, anger and love. He showed me the love and on rare occasion the fire and anger. We could laugh about each others' annoying habits and call each other names in fun. He referred to me as "homo" and I always answered the phone "hi asshole". It was a rewarding and enriching friendship that will be greatly missed. We had a nice chat and a smoke together a few days before he died. Knowing that time was short we said "good-bye friend" instead of the usual "see you later, asshole". My heart grieves with you.
sincerely, steve schield
