“ My husband and I met Leon and Clara about 25 years ago at Soda Lake when my husband, suffering from early stages of a dementia, could not get our 5th wheel turned around and Leon, bless his kind heart, asked permission to help get things straightened out.

They then invited us over to their home in Moses lake where they shared cantelopes with us from their garden.

What a sweet, caring couple! I'm so very sorry for your loss but please know, every time I think of Moses Lake, I think of them. You were blessed to have them for so many years.

May the Lord give you peace and comfort,

Sincerely,

Marian Farmer###imported-begin##Marian Farmer###imported-end##

“ I will miss you dad. It is good that you are back home in Moses Lake. We are all better adults because of you. Know you are in our hearts and spirits and you will be missed by us all. Billy, Maudina, Rejenna and I are left with both our parents gone. It is dishardening to think we want get to spare over the phone anymore. We are too old to be orphans. Your grandchildren will miss you also, and all the knowledge that is yet to come forth.##imported-begin##Janice Gordon Ware##imported-end##

“ I didn't get to know Leon for very long but the first time I met him we had this kind of neat connection, called fishing..hahaha..there is kind of a story behind this. Unfortunately I didn't get a chance to expand on this connection more until he came back to Washington. The time was way to short but for the time that I did get to spend with him it was greatly appreciated, he was an awesome man. I wish I could have gotten to know him even better, he had a wealth of knowledge and information that we all could of learned from him. Leon I will miss you but you will never be forgotten. You have become a part of my life that can't be discribed, sometimes the little things are what are important. God Bless and enjoy you new adventure...love ya & I miss you...thanks for what tinme I did have.##imported-begin##Laurie Hannula##imported-end##
