“ So sorry to hear about your father. He was born the same year as my Mom, but she left us in 2010. I remember your parents well, especially your Mom.

"Listen closely to the winds, and hear the gentle whisper of an angel's wings in flight.

Look far into the sky and see the shimmering stardust left behind.....

Close your eyes, clear your thoughts, and feel the love of your very own, very real, guardian angel." author unknown##imported-begin##Jeanette Ehlert Enzler##imported-end##

“ Thank you Grandpa for the greatest childhood memories a little girl could ask for. Thank you for showing me the magic in loving all creatures. I still can hear yur voice calling the horses "Cmauuun now Cmon" and the smallest creatures as "awe lil fellers." In your voice that was love, strength, and my Grandpa's signature. Thank you Grandpa for showing me how to whittle and giving me a pocketknife.

Thank you Grandpa for teaching me that butterbrickle ice cream and a view beats chocolate any day. Thank you for liking my cornbread and the introduction to the ? game.

Grandpa I will miss you so much and your legacy will carry on for generations to come. I am grateful to the Lord for our reunion some day...##imported-begin##Shirley Scott##imported-end##

“ My grandfather was a great man. When I think about him the words that come to mind are: hard worker, caring, humorous, faithful, respectful, storyteller, craftsman and family man. My favorite memories are all the wonderful times we spent with him and Grandma on the farm during the summer and watching him work with his horses. He will be greatly missed by his entire family. Rest in peace Grandpa!###imported-begin##Allison Mallonee###imported-end##
