Rolan L Lybbert

December 19, 1969 – June 13, 2024

Rolan Lybbert, age 54, of Moses Lake Washington passed away suddenly and unexpectedly due to an aortic dissection. He is lovingly remembered by his father, 7 of his siblings, his 6 children (Johanna, Emily, Noah, Corina, Julianne, and Casey), and his 3 grandchildren (Everett, Nico, and Harper). Rolan was a teacher, skateboarder, artist, and active member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. He lived vibrantly during his time here on earth.

A funeral service will be held for him on Thursday June 20th at 10:00 AM at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (351 Yonezawa Blvd, Moses Lake, WA). Following the funeral there will be a graveside memorial at Pioneer Memorial Gardens.

“*Rolan...
I will always have the memories of sitting in night classes, trying not to giggle when you cracked your jokes, and the professor saying, "I've had enough! We are taking a break" You always made those unbearable night classes bearable. I'm sure you were an awesome teacher! No doubt you had those kiddos laughing all day.*

“ I’m glad there’s a way to share memories about Rolan after the tears are dry and the shock is over. I first met Rolan when he interviewed at Longview Elementary for a teaching job. Back then men elementary teachers were few. I was on the hiring committee and, as he presented his giant big book portfolio of ideas, I remember telling myself, “I’m going to copy that...and that...and that.” Rolan had lots of fun ideas. Add Shamra to the mix and our little school kept movin’ and groovin’. He was easy to talk to and always ready to talk about the days of summer following the band. I hope Rolan’s family will read these tributes and know how much we loved him.

“ Rolan was a driving force in his years at Hiram Johnson High School in Sacramento. He was an All Metro Championship player his senior year on the school football team. More importantly, Rolan was a friend to everyone he met and had the ability to uplift others. His friendship with my son spanned the years and has been a source of joy. Rolan’s deep spiritual beliefs sustain his friends and family in our time of sorrow.
